£275m boost for Cotswolds rail track but £0 for Witney

CASH totalling £275 million could boost train lines serving West Oxfordshire between Oxford and Hereford, but plans to open a disused railway line to Witney were disregarded at a key rail summit.

The plans would include reopening disused lines and unused platforms at Hanborough Rail Station to up the number of trains that can run along the line.

They were unveiled at a meeting in Witney last Thursday attended by 120 delegates including Prime Minister and Witney MP David Cameron.

Both Mr Cameron and GWR managing director Mark Hopgood backed the proposal to invest £275m.

By Alex Ballinger

Speaking at the meeting Mr Cameron said: "I hope this event has given the rallying cry to join together with a shared vision and as a single voice for the north Cotswolds line.

"Let's keep up this momentum and build on it – ask your friends, family and everyone in your network to get involved and let's come up with the strongest business case in the country. The challenge has been set."

The half-day conference at Witney Lakes Resort was organised by West Oxfordshire District Council and rail operator GWR.

The plan could see Hanborough station linked to Oxford by three trains every hour, up from one.

But Witney Oxford Transport (WOT) campaign group said plans will not benefit those living in Witney and Carterton.w

The Guardian previously reported an appeal was sparked ahead of the meeting by West Oxfordshire Green Party (WOGP) to reopen a disused train line from Witney to Oxford by reopening Yarnton.

But the idea was not raised at the meeting.

Green Party parliamentary candidate for Witney Stuart Macdonald said: "We tried to go to the meeting but when we found out

PM's aunt joins county protests

THE aunt of Prime Minister David Cameron was outside Oxford's County Hall to protest against 'devastating' budget cuts on Tuesday.

Clare Currie, who lives in Oxford, picked up her placard in a bid to stop Oxfordshire County Council closing the county's children's centres.

Mrs Currie said: "I think the cuts are going to make people suffer a huge amount.

"I think the early years are really important."

Abingdon teacher 'groomed' student

• Abingdon School (picture courtesy of Flickr user Reading Tom)

By Alex Ballinger

A MUSIC teacher at £12,000 a term Abingdon School has been banned from teaching for life after 'grooming' and starting a sexual relationship with a pupil who was coming to terms with his sexuality, a teaching panel has found.

Simon Richard Whalley, 47, taught at the private boys' school in Park Road between 2001 and 2014.

His behaviour was described as 'emotionally manipulative' by the professional conduct panel of the National College for Teaching and Leadership.

He was found to have performed sex acts on a pupil aged between 16 and 18, bought students alcohol, and let them stay overnight in his flat between 2000 and 2002.

Headteacher at the school, Felicity Lusk, said: "I am deeply saddened that this has happened at Abingdon.

"Teachers hold a position of trust and the former member of staff betrayed the trust of the pupils, the school and that of the teaching profession.

"His conduct was completely unacceptable."

The alarm was raised when the victim contacted the school in July 2014 raising concerns about Mr Whalley.

The matter was referred to the Oxfordshire Safeguarding Children Board and the police.

The panel met in Mr Whalley's absence in Coventry from February 1 to February 3.

A Department for Education report listed allegations against Mr Whalley ranging from developing a close friendship with a pupil, to letting him sleep in his bed while intoxicated, climbing into bed with him, trying to kiss him, putting his hand in his underwear, and performing sex acts on him.

The panel found these allegations proven.

Another accusation - that he met with a pupil or pupils on more than one occasion in restaurants - was not proven because no evidence was provided.

Ms Lusk added: "A school must be an environment where young people are safe.

"This is Abingdon's first priority.

"All pupils are encouraged to raise any concerns they may have.

"Abingdon promotes a culture of openness with safeguarding at the forefront of the mind of every adult involved with young people."

A report on the panel's hearing, published online, said: "The findings of misconduct are serious and the conduct displayed would likely have a negative impact on the individual's status as a teacher, potentially damaging the public perception of the profession.

"Accordingly, the panel is satisfied that Mr Whalley is guilty of unacceptable professional conduct."

The panel banned him from teaching indefinitely.

No police charges have been brought.

Syria accusations

OXFORD: The parents of the man dubbed 'Jihadi Jack' have been re-bailed after they were arrested on suspicion of sending money to Syria to be used for terrorism purposes.

Sally, 53, and Jack Letts, 55 revealed in a television interview two weeks ago that they had been arrested for trying to send money to their son Jack, 20.

They were bailed until yesterday but police confirmed a 52-year-old woman and 55-year-old man from Oxford had been re-bailed until Tuesday, February 23.

Jack Letts is being investigated by counter-terrorism police on suspicion of travelling from Oxford to Syria.

Snow forecast?

OXON: The county could see up to two centimetres of snow in the coming days according to the Met Office.

Temperatures were set to fall to zero last night and a snow and ice warning was issued between 8pm yesterday and 10am this morning.

Met Office spokesperson Lindsay Mears said: "It could clip the area but it might miss it altogether. There's a snow and ice warning."

Temperatures for today are set to be around six degrees Celsius.

Inquest to open

OXFORD: The inquest into the death of a man who was missing for 84 days before being found dead is due to open on Wednesday.

The body of Trae Van Merlin, 41, was found by a member of the public on land just off Botley Road earlier this month.

He went missing from Helen Road, Botley on November 16 last year.

The inquest opening will be held at Oxfordshire Coroner's Court in New Road at 2pm.

Police previously described the death as 'unexplained'.

Tributes paid to band killed in car accident before Oxford gig

THE four members of Indie band Viola Beach, who were due to perform a sold-out show at The Bullingdon in Oxford this Saturday, died in a tragic car crash alongside their manager in Sweeden on Saturday.

Kris Leonard, 20, River Reeves, 19, Tomas Lowe, 27, and Jack Dakin, 19, and manager Craig Tally, 32, all died after the car they were travelling in veered off Södertälje Bridge in Stockholm into the canal below.

Fans have taken to Facebook to pay tribute.

Dawn Watford posted: "So very sad. Hope you are somewhere looking down on the world and still having a great time.

"Say hello to Elvis, John Lennon and David Bowie and play your music for the angels.

"Young men, taken too soon."

Angela June Stobart said: "I am so very sorry that this young band's promising future, now so easily within their grasp... would end on such a tragic note."

The band were gearing up for a long UK tour following their show in Sweden, with their gig at the Cowley Road venue one of many performances back on home soil.

Formed in 2013, the group from Warrington, Cheshire performed on the BBC Introducing Stage at last year's Reading and Leeds Festival.

£95,000 flood project saves Shilton homes

By Alex Ballinger

A NEW completed flood scheme put to the test for the first time in recent harsh weather has prevented about 17 homes from flooding in the village of Shilton, near Carterton.

The project completed 18 months ago saw earth stacked up to hold back water at nearby Shill Brook, and a pond built to hold water until it drains away naturally.

Shilton suffered from flash flooding in 2007, 2012 and 2013 when the brook burst its banks.

Former Shilton parish chairman and now district councillor Alex Postan, said: "Having this scheme in place is a huge relief to everyone in our village who has suffered the consequences of flooding over the years.

"Because the bunds are holding back the water so well, the levels in the ford have scarcely risen this year and the homes around that area have all remained dry."

The country was battered by Storm Imogen at the start of the month, which kicked up gusts of up to 70 miles per hour and relentless rainfall.

Water levels across Oxfordshire came dangerously high.

West Oxfordshire District Council (WODC) cabinet member for environment David Harvey said: "We are confident that this work will help provide protection, and some peace of mind, for people living in Shilton.

"Since the terrible floods of 2007 we are continuing to help communities tackle the problem of flooding as it is a devastating experience."

In July 2007 17 properties flooded in the village to depths of up to 1.5metres.

The council gathered £80,000 funding from the Environment Agency, £12,000 raised by residents and £3,000 provided by the county council ward member, Pete Handley.

Work on this new scheme started in September 2014.

It also provides flood protection for Clanfield, Black Bourton and Alvescot.

Since 2007 WODC has invested £1.5m in flood protection work.

about it the booking was already closed.

"I'm rather disturbed about the meeting. What is West Oxfordshire District Council doing talking about public transport and putting business first?

"It's not their job to put business first.

"We would suggest the that the first step to a rail or tram solution would be to go off from Yarnton and follow that with a rail line to the west."

Leader of West Oxfordshire District Council (WODC), Barry Norton, said: "Rail is vital to the econonmy of the area covered by the north Cotswold line and can help create jobs, increase access to international and regional marks and boost tourism.

"Businesses will play a key part in how we go forward and the views we have heard from a wide cross-section of firms and entrepreneurs at this event will help shape future development."

WODC spokesperson Carys Davies said the Yarnton line was not on the agenda as the meeting was to make a business case for investment in the Cotswolds line.

Business development officer at the council Will Barton said: "The meeting wasn't closed. It was first come first serve."

Witney Oxford Transport (WOT) campaign group has previously called for the reopening of the line between Witney and Yarnton station which closed in 1962.

Oxfordshire County Council has allocated £35m to improve the A40 but campaigners have said the money would be better spent on reopening the line.

WOT spokesperson Maurizio Fantato said: "There may be opportunities [to reopen the line to Witney] if GWR and partners agree that maintaining and developing the Yarnton link with, for example, an Eynsham branch line, would be vital to the success of their scheme, but we do not see clear indications that this is under consideration, with great emphasis being placed instead on 'tourist' access from London to the Cotswolds.

"In particular, any development on the Cotswolds line will fail to address the public transport demand of such areas such as Carterton and west Witney, where upwards of 5,000 houses are about to be built."

Bus cuts meeting

WITNEY: A public meeting will be held this weekend to discuss the future of bus services in the town.

The meeting has been organised by district councillor Andrew Coles and will take place on Sunday, February 21, at Ceewood Hall in Fettiplace Road from 5pm.

It comes as Oxfordshire County Council agreed to cut subsidised bus services a budget meeting on Tuesday.

1,000 responses

WEST OXON: An online parking survey has seen a massive response from local businesses and residents.

Well over 1,000 forms have been submitted to West Oxfordshire District Council since its launch on February 8.

The survey focuses on the future of parking provision in the district and is open until February 29.

Open Weekend

WEST OXON: Tourist attractions have until February 29 to sign up to an open weekend in April.

The Welcome Open Weekend from Friday, April 15, until Sunday, April 17, is organised by West Oxfordshire District Council aims to encourage residents and tourists to visit by offering two for one deals to attractions.

Blenheim Palace, Crocodiles of the World and Fairytale Farm have signed up.

Teenager bailed after Woodstock crash as police call for witnesses

A TEENAGER arrested on suspicion of causing serious injury by dangerous driving in Woodstock has been bailed by police until April 16.

The 18-year-old from Stoke-on-Trent in Staffordshire was arrested on Monday after a collision between a pedestrian and a Renault Kangoo van on the A44 Oxford Street at about 8.50am.

A 21-year-old woman was rushed to Oxford's John Radcliffe Hospital with serious head injuries.

Oxford Street was closed in both directions while police officers examined the scene, but re-opened the same day.

Thames Valley Police Segeant Keith Rayner, of the Joint Operations Unit for Roads Policing, said: "I would like to speak to anyone who saw the collision or who saw the van travelling prior to the collision."

Anyone with information is asked to call police on 101.

Phoebe Stockford Cup in memory of Oxford biker

By Loughlan Campbell

A NEW national go-karting race is to be held next month in memory of Oxford biker Phoebe Stockford.

The 22-year-old from Gladstone Road in Headington died after a tragic accident while racing at a track day in Wales last July.

The two-hour endurance race, called the Phoebe Stockford Cup, is to be held on March 15 at Buckmore Park Kart Circuit near Chatham in Kent.

Her mum Alison Stockford, 57, said: "It means a tremendous amount that Phoebe's legacy is to be remembered in a way connected to her passion for motorsport.

"We are immensely proud of her, as she knew how tough it was for a girl to enter a male-dominated industry and as an ambassador she was very encouraging to other girls who were considering a career within this industry, urging them not to give up, to keep on pushing."

The race is being hosted by engineering and apprenticeships company JTL, which Phoebe was an ambassador for.

Phoebe was an apprentice electrician working for Kidlington-based contractors Darke and Taylor as their first ever female apprentice.

> Anyone who met her would remember her, she was enormous fun

Her mum, dad Paul, and brothers Daniel and Jack, will mark Pheobe's memory at the event, which is set to be an annual race.

Phoebe, a former Cheney School pupil, was airlifted to the University Hospital of Wales after coming off her motorbike at Pembrey Circuit in Carmarthenshire.

She passed away on July 5 the next day.

Mrs Stockford said: "We have been overwhelmed by the response to Phoebe's courage and bravery that has touched so many people.

"Our local community, as well as the wider community of her friends, have been amazing and very supportive. I don't know what we have done without their help."

JTL's equality and diversity manager Yasmin Damree-Ralph worked with Phoebe.

She said: "Anyone who met Phoebe would remember her.

"She was great company and enormous fun as well as being very good at what she did."

JTL is hoping about 25 five-person teams will take part, with one professional kart driver and one apprentice driver per team. Any electrical or plumbing companies looking to take part can enter a team by contacting martin.condrey@eca.co.uk

Sir Ian McKellen

OXFORD: Actor Sir Ian McKellen has joined the list of speakers for the Oxford Literary Festival this April.

The celebrated Shakespearean actor (pictured), 76, will discuss Shakespeare's plays with Oxford University professor Sir Jonathan Bate as the festival commemorates the 400th anniversary of the playwright's death.

The festival across Oxford runs from April 2 until April 10.

Pipe plan blocked

HEADINGTON: A planning application to install a £14.8 million heating pipe between Oxford's John Radcliffe and Churchill hospitals has been thrown out by Oxford City Council.

The project was meant to get underway last month but was found to not have gained proper planning approval.

The council declared the filed application from applicant Oxford University Hospitals NHS Foundation Trust as 'invalid' and told the Trust to submit a new one.

Heirlooms burgled from stabbing victim's widow

By Alex Ballinger

THE wife of a man who was brutally stabbed to death in Abingdon's Poundland store has been burgled of family heirlooms from her Oxford home while picking their children up from school.

Burglars climbed onto a conservatory roof and forced open a window to steal her dead husband's family jewels, which she had been keeping to give to their children.

Police appealed for help tracking down the thieves on Monday, just over three weeks after the burglary in Buckler Road, North Oxford, on January 21.

Justin Skrebowski, 61, was stabbed to death in Poundland on December 7 last year, his wife's birthday.

Investigating officer, PC Chris Cassidy, said: "This was already a terrible time for the victim who is trying to carry on with her life after losing her husband in such a horrible way.

"To then be the victim of a burglary in such a short time later, where someone broke into her home – where she and her young children should feel safe – searched it and stole jewellery and other precious items, is heartbreaking.

"These items had huge sentimental value as they were family heirlooms from her husband's family and we being kept to give to their children when they grew up."

The woman in her 30s, who asked to remain anonymous, had left the house to pick up her children between 4pm and 7pm and returned to find it had been broken into.

PC Cassidy said there is no information that links the burglary to the murder investigation.

Trevor Joyce, 36, appeared at Oxford Crown Court on December 11 last year charged with murdering Mr Skrebowski.

He is due to enter a plea at the same court on March 7, and a trial is earmarked to start on June 6.

An inquest opening into his death heard Mr Skrebowski was stabbed in the back.

Witnesses described the attacker grabbing knives from a shop shelf before the attack.

Mr Skrebowski was described by family as a 'caring husband' and 'loving father'.

A statement from his family said: "He was an optimistic and forward thinking man, a deeply caring husband and a very proud and loving father to his dream.

"It seems very hard that such a kind and caring individual should be snatched away from his family and friends in such a terrible way."

PC Cassidy added: "I am determined to bring the perpetrator to justice, but I will need the public's help, specifically anyone who works in local pawn shops, antique shops, jewellers or cash or gold shops.

"The easiest way to contact us is to visit your nearest police station or call 101."

The company which specialises in repairing windows which are steamed up, broken or damaged by replacing the panes – not the frames has received the coveted 'Which Trusted Trader' status after going through a rigorous accreditation process entirely focussed on customer service.

Group Managing Director Marcus McGee believes that Which? have endorsed Cloudy2Clear's long standing company policy of delivering the highest standards possible at all times. 'Our service is simple. If your double glazing has misted up we can replace the glass at a fraction of the cost of a new window, in any type of frame, and with a new 10 year guarantee. But it's not just about saving people money, although that obviously helps. Whilst a number of tradespeople perhaps don't focus on customer care as much as they should do, we make sure we turn up when we say we will, do the job the customer requires and leave their house as clean as a whistle.

Locally Cloudy2Clear service the Oxfordshire area from their local depots and manager James Miller agrees that this approach is a major factor in his success. 'The truth is that it's not just the personal satisfaction that I get from doing a good job but also it makes good business sense. I get a huge amount of business from friends and family of people I've done work for, which just goes to show how much a little bit of effort is appreciated as both my customers and, obviously a body as nationally important as Which? now recognise.'

So, if your windows are steamed up, broken or damaged give James a call for a free quotation on 0800 61 21 118 and he'll be happy to help!

Bicester court to shut in 2017

BICESTER Magistrates' Court will close next spring as part of Government cuts across the justice system.

It comes after a consultation over plans to close 91 courts in England and Wales.

Townspeople will have to travel to either Oxford or Banbury for criminal and family court hearings.

A Ministry of Justice report said seven letters were received opposing the closure, raising concerns about travel and the town's population increase. One person suggested using town halls for court hearings.

But it concluded Bicester Magistrates' Court is underused and there was "sufficient capacity" in Oxford and Banbury to deal with cases.

It also said new digital technology systems and video links would allow more people to "communicate" with the court online and fewer people would have attend court.

Minister for courts and legal aid Shailesh Vara said the system is slow, expensive and needs modernising.

Anthony Stansfeld, Police and Crime Commissioner for Thames Valley, said: "It will cost the police money, do nothing for victims and witnesses, and is likely to result in yet more failed cases."

Bicester court costs £58,000 a year to run.

Family plea to mum's former work mates

By Jayne Smith

A FAMILY is appealing for help to track down their mother's former work mates to help build a legal case.

An inquest ruled Audrey Eva Chittock, 75, from Abingdon, died of industrial disease.

She had mesothelioma, an aggressive and terminal type of lung cancer linked to exposure to asbestos.

• Audrey Chittock

Mrs Chittock's family believe she may have been exposed to asbestos fibres when she worked at Kohen-Windsor Box Company Ltd, in Thame, between 1986 and 1988.

Her job was to unpack and repackage vehicle parts such as brake linings, shoes and clutches, which could have contained asbestos.

Her family want to track down her former colleagues who may be able to help with the legal case.

The company is no longer trading.

Mrs Chittock's youngest daughter, Michelle, from Abingdon, also worked as a packer for the company between 1986 and 1987.

She said: "The parts arrived on pallets to the benches in our workshop area.

"We would have to unpack them, repack and label up the new boxes. I remember removing the brake shoes with the linings, some would be covered in brown paper, and there would be loose dust particles."

Solicitor's firm Birchall Blackburn Law said the items arrived in boxes marked "may contain asbestos" but neither Michelle or her mother were given respirator protection or warned of the dangers of asbestos.

Tina Webb, Mrs Chittock's eldest daughter who lives in Wantage, said her mother became ill in May 2012 with chest and back pain and her condition quickly deteriorated.

She died seven months later in the December.

Mrs Webb said: "Nothing can prepare you for being told that you mum has cancer and that there is nothing they can do.

"To see someone - who had the strength to raise five children and worked so hard deteriorate in health so fast is devastating. We all miss her dearly."

Victoria Roberts, an industrial disease solicitor from Birchall Blackburn Law, which is representing the family, said: "Mesothelioma takes decades to develop, which often denies hardworking people the justice they deserve. It is a cruel and incurable lung disease that robs families of their loved ones."

Anyone with information should contact Victoria Roberts on 0800 614 722 or email varoberts@birchallblackburn.co.uk

Burglary attempt

KIDLINGTON: Residents are being urged to stay vigilant after an attempted burglary in The Moors last Thursday at around 3.13am.

Offenders parked a small white van in the street and tried to gain entry to vehicles parked outside an address before they tried to gain access to the property.

Police are warning locals to ensure their vehicles are locked and secure with all valuables removed.

Anyone with information is asked to call 101.

Fairytale Farm

CHIPPING NORTON: The doors of Fairytale Farm, a visitor attraction with a focus on disabled children and their families, have re-opened for the new season.

For the first time the farm, in Southcombe, just outside Chipping Norton, will stay open until the end of October half term.

Owner Nick Laister said new attractions included giant skittles.

He said: "In contrast to the giant skittles, our star attraction for February is actually quite small. Our brand new goat is a Saanen goat. But she is much smaller than the average Saanen goat, hence we have called her Thumbelina."

Lost Tolkien poems found in Abingdon

By Loughlan Campbell

TWO lost poems by Lord of the Rings author JRR Tolkien have been discovered at an Abingdon school.

They were unearthed at Our Lady's Abingdon, a private catholic school in Radley Road, 80 years after they were published in its magazine titled 'The Annual'.

Principal Stephen Oliver discovered the poems in the 1936 edition after a tip-off by American Tolkien scholar, Wayne G. Hammond.

Mr Oliver said: "At first we couldn't find the 1936 edition, then, while preparing for an event for former pupils of the school, we uncovered our own coup and I saw the two poems.

"My excitement when I saw them was overwhelming. I am a great Tolkien fan and was thrilled to discover the connection with the school."

Mr Hammond contacted Mr Oliver after he found a note from Tolkien saying the Oxford professor had published two poems in a magazine he called 'The Abingdon Chronicle'.

The search uncovered 'The Shadow Man' - an early version of a published poem in Tolkien's 1962 collection, Adventures of Tom Bombadil - and 'Noel', a Christmas poem, celebrating the birth of Jesus.

It is believed Tolkien visited the school while living in Oxford and working as an Anglo-Saxon professor at Oxford University in 1925.

The poems are some of Tolkien's earlier work, published a year before The Hobbit and 18 years before The Lord of the Rings.

Mr Oliver added: "We intend to make the poems the centre piece of an exhibition on the rich history of our school.

"As a writer myself, I feel privileged to have been part of the discovery of these lost works."

A map of Tolkien's fantasy world Middle Earth went on display in Oxford's Blackwells in Broad Street last November after being found in a loose copy of The Lord of the Rings last year.

The map sold for £60,000.

Disabled drivers ripped off by scam?

DISABLED drivers in Oxfordshire may have been scammed into paying five times too much for their blue parking badge.

Oxfordshire County Council has issued a warning on Monday after people called in to its customer service centre about an online company charging £49 for a blue badge application.

The council charges £10 for issuing a badge and does not charge for an application.

The 'copycat' site appears in internet search engine results - but the council has not named it.

Council trading standard operations manager Jody Kerman said: "Often these kind of sites are not illegal but people are being drawn into spending far more than they need to."

She added: "Similar sites exist on issues such as driving licence applications, passport applications and tax returns."

Many use website tools to get the website a higher up in search engine listings so they are the first site browsers see.

Disabled motorists are told to look for 'gov.uk' in the web address.

To apply for a blue badge go to oxfordshire.gov.uk/disabledparking

Boy's heartfelt plea against cuts shakes councillors

A 13-YEAR-OLD boy faced a room of more than 100 Oxfordshire leaders and residents in a bid to persuade councillors to rethink planned cuts.

Dylan Lovell, from Banbury, helped sway councillors to amend the budget and save £2 million for the county's children's centres.

Dylan, who has ADHD and Asperger's Syndrome, told them of his experiences at Oxfordshire's children centres.

He said: "Under the new ideas I would not have had the help needed. I would not have understood why my father would hurt me and my mum.

"I would not have made the progress I have made. I would not be the young person I am to day.

"I'm just glad me and my mum evolved through a system that actually works. These cuts will destroy lives."

He was among 16 residents who urged leaders to U-turn on planned cuts.

The new budget scrapped changes to day services for the elderly and freed up £2m to invest in children's centres.

The county's seven health and well being centres (day centres) will also now not close.

New budget agreed amid emotional pleas by public

• Campaigners with placards

• Protestors outside County Hall in Oxford on Tuesday

A NEW budget for Oxfordshire has been agreed which has scrapped some planned cuts to young and elderly people's services amid emotional speeches from Oxfordshire residents.

The amended Oxfordshire County Council (OCC) budget dropped cuts to children's centres and early intervention hubs from £8 million to £6m, and abandoned plans to cut £3million from day services for the elderly until 2018.

But this new budget means the council has increased its need for future savings from £11.2m to £15.2m by 2020.

A total of £69m will still disappear from the council's full budget from 2016 to 2020.

The cuts include funding for subsidised buses, support for homeless people and £18m from the adult social care budget.

Plans to close Oxfordshire's 44 children's centres could still go ahead. They may be replaced by eight larger hubs which will get £2m of investment.

OCC leader Ian Hudspeth (Con) said: "I know making cuts is not the reason any of us came into local government but we have to be pragmatic."

By Alex Ballinger

The £69m cuts in its budget by 2020 is on top of £292m in cuts which began in 2010 and will run until 2020.

However, the Conservative, Labour and Liberal Democrat groups came together at County Hall on Tuesday to push back £4m in savings to later years, and drew on £300,000 from its reserves to put into services.

The meeting ran from 10am until 5pm and heard from party leaders and 16 residents who called for services to be saved.

Leader of the Labour group Liz Brighouse said: "We're trying to implement something that none of us really support but we're trying to do it in a realistic way."

An alternative budget was put forward by the Green Party, which proposed a seven per cent increase in council tax across the county, equating to 74p a week to save frontline services.

The council threw out the suggestion with 59 voting against two in favour and one abstention.

An increase of over four per cent in council tax could only be approved after a referendum of Oxfordshire residents, which would cost in excess of £600,000.

The amended budget was voted through with 60 votes in favour and two against.

Discussion also turned to Oxfordshire's bid for a 'unitary' authority which would merge the county's six councils into one.

A report published by OCC last month found it could save the council £32m a year by cutting jobs and councillors.

OCC will now carry out a cross-party consultation with district, town and parish councils.

Budget changes at a glance:

- £750,000 will now keep voluntary day services open
- £2m will keep health and wellbeing centres open
- £200,000 will keep transport to day centres running
- £2m to invest in children centres but some will still close
- £300,000 to be used from council reserves
- £15m unidentified savings still needed by 2020

Controversial new 30mph town link road plan backed

By Jayne Smith

PLANS to build a new road to replace Howes Lane have been recommended for approval.

Cherwell District Council officers say A2Dominion's plan to construct a new road from Middleton Stoney Road to Lords Lane via a tunnel under the railway bank should be approved.

The new road would pass though eco homes and would form a 'boulevard style' with a 30mph speed limit.

Proposals for the current Howes Lane would be to create new foot and cycle ways.

But there has been opposition to the proposal, which is part of the 6,000 home eco town at North West Bicester.

Thame Valley Police raised concerns the realigned road "could affect emergency response times" and site security.

Middleton Stoney Parish Council say the new road fails as a strategic link road and will be "virtually useless" for traffic wishing to bypass Bicester to the West because the speed limit will be 30mph.

Chesterton Parish Council said the new road doesn't "address future capacity issues".

The council said: "The new road will have adjoining retail outlets, education facilities and businesses which will add to usage and further slow movements."

Oxfordshire County Council's Bicester councillors raised a string of concerns including urbanisation of a strategic rural link, the planned 30mph speed limit was too slow, and proposed cycle paths should be reviewed.

While the Environment Agency said the plans had not "demonstrated that the development as proposed will not increase flood risk on and off site".

The road proposal has received "strong support" from residents who said traffic would be moved away from back gardens in Howes Lane, and that the new road "would be fit for purpose".

They also supported closing Howes Lane to make walkways and cycle ways that joined the eco town.

It is unclear if the developer, A2 Dominion, has secured the land owned by Network Rail, but the operator said the project would affect its operational railway line between Bicester North and Banbury and further discussions over design and implementation were necessary.

Plans by Portfolio Property Partners to build up to 1,700 homes, a retirement village, shops and offices, energy centre, and land for a primary school have also been recommended for approval.

Councillors are due to decide both plans tomorrow, February 18.

#LoveinOxford

OXFORD: The winner of a competition to find the most romantic spot in Oxford has been announced as the gates to Christ Church Meadow in St Aldate's.

The location was picked by Sue Parker out of 250 places nominated on Twitter, Facebook and Instagram from 625 votes for the Oxford City Council #LoveinOxford contest. The results were announced on Valentine's Day.

Homes decision

BICESTER: Plans to build homes on the site of a derelict engineering factory have been recommended for refusal.

Vanderbilt Homes wants to demolish the former Lear Corporation building, in Bessemer Close, off Launton Road, and build 49 homes.

Cherwell officers recommended the application is refused as it would create a poor living environment. The application is due to be decided tomorrow.

Sports grants

CHIPPING NORTON: Councillors have agreed to use some developer cash, known as section 106 contributions, to support sports organisations around the town.

A letter and grant application form will be drawn up and sports groups will be able to apply for money for projects.

Bake Off champ to headline food fest

AFTER surviving scrutiny by Mary Berry and Paul Hollywood, Great British Bake Off winner Nadiya Hussain is heading to Thame to share her cooking skills.

Nadiya, who won the television contest last year, has been signed up to headline Thame Food Festival on September 24.

She will demonstrate her culinary skills on the 'Baking Stage' and sign copies of her new book.

• Nadiya Hussain

The Great British Bake Off is a TV show where amateur bakers compete to win the title of best amateur baker.

Over 10 weeks contestants tackle a range of baking skills which get progressively more difficult and each week one of them is eliminated.

Festival patron Lotte Duncan said: "We couldn't believe our luck when she said yes. I've been such an admirer of hers and loved all the amazing bakes she did on the show. I can't wait to chat to her on the stage."

She added: "This year we have great plans to make it bigger and better, and having Nadiya as part of the festival is literally the icing on the cake."

Nadiya said: "I'd heard such good things about the festival – there is a great buzz around it that stretches far and wide.

"I'd also been speaking to the other bakers in the GBBO family who came last year and they had a great time – so of course it was a yes. I'm really looking forward to meeting all the people of Thame, the visitors on the day and getting up on the stage to bake up a storm."

Also signed up is Howard Middleton, who returns to the festival for a second year and will demonstrate gluten-free baking.

Three former Bake off contestants Miranda Gore Browne, Luis Troyano and Chetna Makan will also take to the stage.

Abingdon firm at centre of child security breach warning

EXPERTS have urged parents to boycott an Abingdon electronic toy company after hackers stole photos of millions of children and parents.

Names, ages, and genders were also taken in the security breach on VTech from its databases in November last year.

But VTech, in Napier Court, sparked outrage among security specialists when it altered its terms and conditions on Christmas Eve to absolve itself of liability from breaches.

VTech spokesperson Lauren Willmott said: "VTech has worked hard to enhance the security of its websites and services and to safeguard customer information. But no company that operates online can provide 100 per cent guarantee it won't be hacked."

Details of about 6.3m children and 4.8m parents were affected. They were hacked from the company's 'Learning Lodge', which allows customers to download apps, games, and stories to VTech products.

Australian website security author Troy Hunt said: "The bigger picture here is that companies are building grossly negligent software. And then simply not being held accountable when it all goes wrong."

Homeless woman to buy caravan with donations

A HOMELESS woman who thwarted a burglar has pledged to buy a caravan to live in with money donated from strangers.

More than £9,000 has been donated to the Oxford woman, known as Lottie Pauling-Chamberlain, since a campaign was launched on Sunday.

By Loughlan Campbell

Lottie, who sits outside Cornmarket Street cosmetics shop Lush, told staff she confronted a burglar last Wednesday after seeing him leave the shop with the company laptop and more than £1,000 worth of goods.

• Lottie and her dog Marley outside Lush in Oxford

She told them she knew the alleged burglar and tracked him down shortly after the incident to collect and return their belongings.

Police confirmed yesterday that two people have been bailed after they were arrested on Tuesday in connection with the incident.

> We have always felt safer with her outside of our shop

Lush staff said: "We have known Lottie for years, and have always felt safer with her outside of our shop.

"Lottie knows us, knows our delivery staff, knows Lush.

"She knew that the man walking out of our shop was not us, and she did the extraordinarily brave thing of challenging him.

"We want to share what Lottie did with all of you, because we are greatly moved by her selfless actions in protecting us and we want to thank her from the bottom of our hearts."

To thank Lottie, and her sidekick dog Marley, staff set up a fundraising page which raised more than £9,245 in the four days from 537 donations.

In a post on the page, Lottie wrote: "Hi so I'm Lottie and my 'dog Marley' as in Bob thank u all soooooooooo much literally I'm overwhelmed and had to open a Facebook account just to comment on all this.

"Funds will go to buying a small bit of land to put a caravan on any extra will, if I get my way, buy more caravans to allow those who are homeless to rent somewhere cheaply, gain a reference for good conduct as a tenant, time to save money for a deposit while living without the fear of where you will sleep at night." The page has subsequently been suspended by Lush staff following the arrests in the investigation.

Police arrested a 29-year-old woman of no fixed abode on suspicion of conspiracy to commit a burglary other than a dwelling with intent to steal, and on suspicion of possession of Class A drugs. A 42-year-old man of no fixed abode was also arrested on suspicion of burglary. They have been released on bail until May 15.

Man jailed for student attack

• Tim McDonagh, 36

A MAN who headbutted a student and smashed a bottle over another in an attack at an Oxford pub has been jailed for six years.

Tim McDonagh, 36, of Bernwood Road in Barton, attacked a 19-year-old and 20-year-old at the White Horse Pub in Headington's London Road at about 7pm on March 1 last year.

He was sentenced at Oxford Crown Court last Tuesday after being found guilty by a unanimous jury for causing grievous bodily harm with intent and common assault.

Investigating officer Detective Constable Matthew Hodgetts said: "McDonagh was convicted of two violent attacks upon students who were just trying to enjoy an evening in the pub with friends.

"I hope the sentence given shows that violent behaviour will not be tolerated."

Castle Mill deal

OXFORD: Developers behind a £20 million revamp of Jericho's Castle Mill boatyard are to be forced to let a community trust run the site when building work is finished.

A legal agreement was handed to Strategic Iconic Assets Heritage Acquisition Fund (SIAHAF) by Oxford City Council requiring them to let community group Jericho Wharf Trust run the site.

Detailed plans for a piazza, community centre, two new bridges, a restaurant, nursery and 22 homes were granted last month.

Home burgled

EAST HAGBOURNE: A laptop, cash and Xbox 360 were burgled from a house in The Croft last Wednesday.

Burglars smashed a back window between 8.20am and 2.50pm.

Suspicious man

WOODCOTE: Police are linking reports of a man in the back garden of a home in Goring Road last Thursday with a spate of shed break-ins nearby.

Police are warning residents to be vigilant and report suspicious activity. The man was spotted entering the garden at about 10.30am before leaving.

New cycle route linking Didcot with Milton Park

A DERELICT rail tunnel is to be revived as a cycle and walk way as part of a £1.4 million scheme linking Didcot and Milton Park.

By Loughlan Campbell

Work on the new path along Backhill Tunnel is due to start this summer and last four months, Oxfordshire County Council (OCC) announced on Friday.

It will join the business park north of the A4130 to housing being built south of the road to the west of the town.

Paul Lynn, of Didcot bike shop Mountain Mania, said: "This improvement to cycle paths in the community is a real positive step for cyclists that commute to work or for general riding.

"This will provide the opportunity for people who'd like to cycle to work but don't have the confidence to deal with busy road links."

"It will also assist in the general health of individuals riding more so I am sure we will continue to see a big change in commuting habits in the future."

Mr Lynn also called on companies in Milton Park to start cycle schemes to work to encourage residents not to drive to the estate.

• The disused Backhill Tunnel is to be reopened to connect Didcot to Milton Park

New lighting and CCTV will be fitted in the tunnel and fencing will be put up blocking off access to the rail line.

The route, which has been shut to the public for many years, aims to encourage staff to leave their cars at home and reduce the number of vehicles on nearby roads.

Kevin Wilkinson, Chairman of Harwell Bicycle Users Group said: "It is great news that this link will finally get built.

"Many residents will welcome this link, it will immediately allow access to Milton Park without having to use the complex and arduous crossing points at the Milton Interchange."

The funding for the project came from the Oxfordshire Local Enterprise Partnership.

David Nimmo Smith, OCC's cabinet member for transport, said: "This is really good news for anyone who lives or works in the area as it will provide convenient attractive and direct dedicated access to Milton Park from the west side of Didcot.

"This will encourage greater use of sustainable transport, helping reduce the number of vehicles on roads and improve the health of our population."

Uni leader best paid in the UK

OXFORD University's former vice-chancellor was the best paid university vice-chancellor in the UK last year, figures have revealed.

Professor Andrew Hamilton earned £462,000 in the 2014 to 2015 academic year, University and College Union (UCU) statistics obtained via a Freedom of Information request showed on Thursday.

They also reveal he spent £34,304 on flights last year, four times more than the average for vice-chancellors of £8,560.

Prof Hamilton became president of New York University last month.

Oxford University said: "Oxford is one of the great universities of the world and makes a major contribution to the economic prosperity of the UK. It must remain globally competitive and it's vice-chancellor's remuneration needs to reflect that."

Professor Louise Richardson replaced Professor Hamilton in the role last month.

Oxford Brookes' University's vice-chancellors were also shown in the figures.

Professors Janet Beer and Alistair Flitt were jointly shown to have flown 66.7 per cent of their flights in first-class. Professor Beer left her role last January with Professor Flitt taking charge at the turn of last year.

Children's safety fears over 'dangerous' new A40 Bypass junction

By Alex Ballinger

PARENTS have voiced fears that a new road link being built to join a housing estate outside Oxford's Nothern Bypass to Northway inside the city bypass will sacrifice their children's safety.

Residents in Northway have appealed for the A40 junction to be blocked up and hedges and fencing refitted off Foxwell Drive.

The road, which will be for buses and bikes only, was designed by Oxford City Council to better connect the to-be-built Barton Park housing development with Oxford.

The speed limit on A40 Nothern Bypass is also to be reduced from 70mph to 50mph, but residents are warning the new junction next to green land means children playing nearby could run onto the road.

Georgina Gibbs, of Saxon Way, said her 12 and 16-year-old children play there.

The treasurer of Northway Residents group said: "Everybody is up in arms. We want to stop it in its tracks.

"[My children] play there. They walk to the park."

The 52-year-old added: "The council admit it's dangerous. They should have left it as it was and found another way out."

Building work on the £53 million 885-home estate is to start in June and finish in 2025.

City councillor for Headington Hill and Northway, Roy Darke, defended the project saying he understands residents' worries but added that he does not think it will pose a risk to children.

He said: "I don't think many parents would allow their kids to play unsupervised if they're under five or six years old on that bit of green space.

"We feel that if we didn't put [the bus lane] in it would be harder for these 800 plus families to make their way into Oxford."

But chairman of the East Oxford Conservatives, Mark Bhagwandin, highlighted the number of crashes on that part of the road.

Mr Bhagwandin said: "The stretch of the A40 between Headington Roundabout and Cutteslowe Roundabout has accounted for at least 27 serious accidents in the last 10 years, two of them fatal.

"A major concern for me is that with the removal of the trees and now the metal fences, there is now the possibility of people, especially children using the playground, to get on to this dangerous A40 road."

Two charged with city bank robbery

OXFORD: Two people charged in connection to the daylight robbery of an Oxford bank appeared at Oxford Magistrates' Court on Friday.

Tyron Smith, 26, of no fixed abode, and a 16-year-old boy from Oxford, are due at Oxford Crown Court on Friday, March 11.

Both face one count of robbing Lloyds Bank in London Road, Headington, on January 23.

Two people threatened staff and escaped with a 'substantial' amount of cash.

The 16-year-old was arrested on Friday, February 5, and Smith was arrested last Thursday, February 11. Smith was also charged with one count of possession with intent to supply herion.

A 24-year-old from Didcot, was arrested and released without charge last Tuesday.

Oxford biologist

OXFORD: An Oxford biologist has been shortlisted for a prestigious national teaching award.

University of Oxford scientist Dr Kevin Coward, 46, is a finalist for the Royal Society of Biology's Higher Education Bioscience Teacher of the Year Award.

He is the director of the MSc course in clinical embryology at the Nuffield Department of Obstetrics and Gynaecology.

The £1,000 prizewinner will be announced on May 4 at a ceremony in Leicester.

Trampoline and trolleys amid waste dumped on Oxford track

FLY-TIPPERS who dumped 200 lorry loads of rubbish on Oxford's railway tracks have cost Network Rail £250,000 in clean-up fees.

Shopping trolleys, asbestos roofs, bikes, TVs, gas canisters and a trampoline were among 4,000 tonnes of waste removed by St Peters Road on the stretch of tracks between Oxford station and Oxford Parkway station, in what rail staff described as a 'mammoth haul'.

• Waste dumped by St Peters Road

Network Rail's programme manager Rob Mole said: "Fly-tipping is not only illegal but it blights the environment and poses a safety threat to the operation of the railway and our staff who maintain it.

"We have cleaned up the area which has been used by mindless fly-tippers and this will make a positive difference to local residents and people using the railway."

Fly-tipping on the railway is illegal and carries a fine of up to £1,000 and can lead to a prison sentence of up to five years.

Mr Mole added: "We will always look to trace those responsible and take action against them whenever possible."

"People should not use the railway as a dumping ground."

The clear-up was carried out while Network Rail is working on tracks between the two stations.

WIN a Champagne breakfast for 4 at The Fox Inn!

The legendary Fox Inn at Great Barrington is a delightful place at any time but as the beginning of a great day out... well it is hard to imagine a better way to start the occasion.

,in conjunction with the Fox Inn, we have a fantastic prize of a champagne breakfast for four and to make it even better it is for the week of the Cheltenham Festival (March 15th to March 18th).

The Fox Inn is the creation of Paul Porter who had spent 15 years developing his dream of what a perfect country pub should be and two years further on down the line it seems that his idea was pretty much spot on.

Go anywhere in the world and you'll find a Cotswold stone building with its exposed beams is pretty much the definition of the English classic pub and the Fox Inn fits the description perfectly.

Perched on the banks of the River Windrush and with seven refurbished rooms it is the perfect base to start exploring the Cotswolds. The menu covers all the classic pub favourites with enough variations to make it truly stand out from the crowd.

Closing date: Sunday, March 6th

For more details on the Fox Inn visit: http://www.foxinnbarrington.com/

How to enter

Our prize of a champagne breakfast for four is a rather special treat that any of you friends would be delighted to join you in, and to be in with a chance of winning all you have to do is answer this simple question:

Q: On the banks of which river is the Fox Inn sited?

Sudoku

The objective is to fill a 9×9 grid with digits so that each column, each row, and each of the nine 3×3 sub-grids that compose the grid (also called "boxes", "blocks", "regions", or "sub-squares") contains all of the digits from 1 to 9. The puzzle setter provides a partially completed grid, which for a well-posed puzzle has a unique solution.

The Russian State Ballet

BALLET may trace its origins back to 1400s Italy, but the epicentre of the art shifted from Europe to Russia where it underwent a new age revival into the 1900s.

An essence of that resurgence never went away, and it is amid this backdrop that The Russian State Ballet of Siberia visits Oxford.

The troupe is performing a trio of shows at the New Theatre as part of a hectic schedule of 68 UK shows in less than three months.

The 'Snow Maiden' is on stage on Monday, February 22, 'Giselle' on Tuesday, February 23 and 'Swan Lake' on Wednesday, February 24.

It will be all about discipline for dancer Anna Fedosova, who is performing in all three.

"I get up early in the morning and have my breakfast, which I prepare the day previously, before going for a long walk.

"Then I travel to the theatre and start doing ballet class, which is then followed by a rehearsal, a short time to get ready for the performance, with the show starting shortly after."

The 20-year-old added: "Normally I need half an hour to warm myself up before going on stage.

"I do warm-ups in my special way, which includes flexing and stretching legs and arms.

By James Richings

"I also must need to keep my muscles warm between rehearsals and performances and for that I use wool warmers and sweaters."

Anna discovered dancing aged 10 and, after graduating from ballet school, joined The Russian State Ballet of Siberia two years ago.

It is one of the one of the younger musical theatres in Russia, having opened for its first season on December 20, 1978, based in Krasnoyarsk.

But its performers are no strangers to the UK.

Anna said: "I toured once in UK and I liked England very much.

"I do not know much about British culture but everything I have seen was very advanced and versatile."

And with each show suitable for an audience of all ages, she hopes the tour will inspire a new generation of ballet performers.

"I wish for all young ballet dancers to fall in love with dancing, with everything you do on stage, and then the audience will definitely fall in love with you," she said.

Tickets for the ballets cost from £18.40 to £46.90 each.

The shows start at 7.30pm.

Stiff Little Fingers

PUNK rock band Stiff Little Fingers is performing at the O2 Academy in Oxford next Thursday, February 25.

The group will perform hits off their latest album, 'No Going Back', alongside others from their repertoire. Doors open at 7pm and tickets cost £20.81.

Tannahill Weavers

TRADITIONAL Scottish group Tannahill Weavers will be performing at the Cornerstone Arts Centre in Didcot on Saturday, February 20.

The four musicians will be performing tracks from their 18 studio albums. Tickets cost £14 or £12.50 for concessions.

The show starts at 8pm.

German comedy

GERMAN comedian Henning Wehn will be at The Theatre in Chipping Norton on Friday, February 19 and Saturday, February 20.

The 41-year-old is bringing 'An Evening With Henning Wehn' to the town on his UK tour.

Suitable for over 14s, tickets cost £15.50 with both gigs starting at 7.45pm.

King Charles III and the Royals

THE question is; will Prince Charles will make a good king?

The Queen is dead. And Prince Charles claims the crown to fulfil a lifelong calling with Camilla by his side.

But ruling with Harry, William, Kate and the world watching on proves a lot of pressure.

Award-winning production 'King Charles III' will grapple with the characters and consciences behind the Royal wave when it arrives at the Oxford Playhouse next week.

"I can do rather a good imitation [of Charles] and there may be certain little habits such as playing with the lobe of the ear," actor Robert Powell, who plays King Charles, told the Guardian.

"But as director Rupert Goold says, 'an impersonation would be completely distracting'. Once you have established you are not doing that the audience can get fully involved in the character and your energy goes into bringing that to life."

The play was written by Oxford-born playwright Mike Bartlett and made it's stage debut in April 2014 at the Almeida Theatre in London, before launching a demanding string of shows.

It went on to enjoy a successful run at the West End from September 2014 to January last year before crossing the Atlantic to Broadway in November last year until January this year

By James Richings

Now an established stage actor, Robert revealed his career might have been behind books rather than on stage.

"On my very first day at Manchester Grammar, the desks were in twos and I was paired up with Ben Kingsley (called Krishna Banji then)," he said.

"After school, I'd started to read law but Ben was doing a play with Manchester University Stage Society when the head of drama, Hugh Hunt, came backstage and said to me, "What on earth are you doing reading law?

"I jacked in studying law but then had a year to kill because, bizarrely, I had to take 'O' level English literature to qualify for the drama course.

"And during that year the director of Stoke's theatre-in-the-round, Peter Cheeseman, asked me to join his company.

"About six months in, we were doing 'As You Like It', and into the first day of rehearsal walked Ben Kingsley!

"In any case, I never took up that place at Manchester."

Eight shows will be staged in Oxford from Monday, February 22, until Saturday, February 27. Tickets cost £15 to £31 and the show is suitable for anyone over the age of 12.

A transgender tale

A PLAY about one of the world's first transgender people will be staged at the Oxford Playhouse next week.

'Cashiered', looks at the story of American Civil War veteran and transgender man Albert Cashier.

Shows will run from Tuesday, February 16, until Saturday, February 20. Tickets cost £6 with the show is suitable for over 18s.

Muther's Union

BLUESY rock foursome Muther's Union will be performing near Wheatley on Friday, February 26.

John Stacey on guitar/vocals, Stuart Bengtsson-Pratt on violin, Jason Pratt on bass, and Mike Oxlade on drums will be at Holton Village Hall, with singer-songwriter Toby Llewellyn supporting.

The free gig starts at 7.30pm.

Film night

BENEDICT Cumberbatch and Johnny Depp's film 'Black Mass' will be screened at The Theatre in Chipping Norton on Wednesday, February 17, at 7.30pm.

The movie about the life of American crime boss Whitey Bulger, is for over 15s and costs £9, or £7 for under 16s.

CHICAGO: THAT'S SHOWBIZ

• Sam Bailey as Matron 'Mama' Morton

MURDER takes centre stage in a concoction of glitz and glamour in Chicago The Musical.

And the recipe includes arsenic, a shotgun, pistol, machine gun, and the impressive defence; 'he ran into my knife 10 times'.

But it feels wholeheartedly satisfying to be on the side of lawlessness for a night and to champion the damsels of murderess row.

The whole time you're gunning for them to get away with murder.

After all, we are in 1920s Chicago, remember? Not sitting in the audience of Oxford's New Theatre.

The musical is set amid a backdrop of bootlegging, speakeasies, mobsters, gangsters, dance clubs, crime and jazz.

Fame and celebrity are supreme in the free-for-all.

And it's a picture with an unmistakable red hue the cast paints well.

Jailbirds Roxie Hart (played by Coronation Street's Hayley Tamaddon) and Velma Kelly (Sophie Carmen-Jones) do make the 'perfect double act'.

Carmen-Jones as Kelly sashays across the stage haughtily in the shadow of Tamaddon's Roxie lead.

While Matron 'Mama' Morton (X Factor 2013 winner Sam Bailey) becomes Queen of Cook County Jail, in league with silver-tongued Prince of the courtroom, Billy Flynn (John Partridge).

REVIEW: ★★★★

By Katriona Ormiston

Meanwhile the rest of the cast morph expertly from fellow man-slayers to excitable reporters to Flynn's feathered dancer friends.

Together he and Tamaddon as Roxie play out one of the most impressive parts of the show, and I can only assume it took time in the studio for her to transform into a ventriloquist's puppet.

The act serves as a reminder about the circus of justice put on for journalists, and the judge and jury of the courtroom.

And that's when the show really comes to life, because the aide-mémoire links Chicago The Musical to Chicago, the 1920s.

That was when Chicago Tribune reporter - and later playwright - Maurine Watkins sat at the trial of two women much like Roxie and Velma, and over half a dozen women awaited their fate on murderess row.

If all the world is a stage, Chicago is definitely in the spotlight.

• Hayley Tamaddon as Roxie Hart and John Partridge as Billy Flynn

PERSONALISED LIVE-IN CARE

Caremark offers a specialised care service for people who need support with day-to-day life but want to stay in their own home. Caremark's live-in care service enables you to remain as independent as possible, whilst being fully supported by a full time live-in Care Worker.

Care at home

You will have choice and control over your life. You can live in familiar surroundings with family, friends, your own possessions, furniture and pets too!

We will agree a personal support plan with you, detailing what kind of care and support you need, including your preferences. You'll enjoy one-to-one support from a fully trained Care Worker. Youll be able to relax, knowing that there is someone there for you seven days a week, to help with your housework, personal care and shopping or simply to provide good company.

Your satisfaction and happiness are vital to us

We will match your Care Workers to your needs. We will regularly monitor and review your satisfaction to make sure you always receive the highest standard of care.

Please call us on 01993810918
To discuss your requirements for live-in services

DILLIE KEANE
With brand new tunes, grand old favourites, gorgeous songs of love and hilarious songs of utter wickedness, Dillie will break your heart, mend it again and have it sent to the cleaners for pressing. And she'll give you her recipe for chutney while she's at it.

Fri, 18 Mar – Sat, Mar 19
Oxford Playhouse, Oxford
ROSENCRANTZ AND GUILDENSTERN ARE DEAD
Questions, confusion and comedy abound as Rosencrantz and Guildenstern, Hamlet's childhood friends, are summoned to Elsinore. Join them as they try to find their way through (and their place within) the plot of Hamlet, an offstage world and some big philosophical questions.
Commemorating 400 years since Shakespeare's death and 50 years since the play's first performance, Oxford Playhouse's 17|25 Young Company present an ensemble version of Tom Stoppard's comic masterpiece. Rosencrantz and Guildenstern Are Dead was Stoppard's debut, written when he was a student in Oxford and catapulting him into a career as one of Britain's most loved playwrights.

Mon, Mar 21 – Sat, Mar 26
Oxford Playhouse, Oxford
SINGLE SPIES
Following the success of The King's Speech, Chichester Festival Theatre and Birmingham Repertory Theatre collaborate once again on Alan Bennett's comedy masterpiece. The power pack: Seat Leon's ST Cupra 280

• Seat Leon ST Cupra 280

By Anthony Yates

I AM not a person who drives very fast anywhere really - I am used to driving around in my wife's Fiat 500X.

So when Seat dropped me off what I can only describe as something you might find on the side of a race track, I suddenly came over all sweaty. The Seat Leon is not fast, it's Biblically fast.

On the Road:

The Leon Cupra ST is available in two power outputs (265 PS and 280 PS), and two transmissions (six-speed manual and six-speed DSG). Both engines produce sharp responsiveness with the added bonus of 350Nm of torque.

It completes a 0-62mph sprint in just 5.7 seconds, yet returns a combined 42.8mpg; whereas the 265PS will hit 62mph in just 5.8 seconds. And CO2 emissions for both engines are as little as 154g/km.

The ride can be quite harsh, especially for those of you who want a softer approach; although the Cupra ST is a car you buy because you want it to do all things a normal estate can't, with the added bonus of Seat's electrically controlled mechanical front differential, which in turn will help you improve your high speed cornering response by keeping you firmly on the road ahead.

Road and wind noise are not a problem. The only noise you will get is from that wonderful 2.0TSi engine and that burble of 280PS thundering down the road.

On the inside:

As you would expect from Seat, the cabin materials are of a good quality and you can see that there has been no penny pinching on the interior. All round visibility is good, even with what I think are still oversize A pillars, and space is king.

It also comes with a large amount of tech including a 5.8-inch colour touch screen with 3D map display, DAB radio, LED interior illumination pack, automatic headlights and rain sensing wipers.

Prices start at around £30,560 for the base 280PS model with a 6-speed DSG. And I would opt for a manual gearbox as I think the Cupra is a car you would want to get more involved with.

Appleton admits U's title chances are over

By Loughlan Campbell

MICHAEL Appleton admitted the League Two title is 'a long way away' for Oxford United following their 1-0 defeat to Northampton Town on Tuesday night.

The U's boss was critical of referee Keith Hill on the night, who handed the Cobblers a controversial penalty that proved to be a turning point in the contest.

Appleton told reporters after the game that he wasn't 'impressed' with the game's officials but that his United side will be looking to move on from the defeat.

He said: "To be fair I think [the title] is a long way away. What we need to do is make sure that we get points from the next five games.

"If Northampton go on a run the other way then you'll never know but right now we're looking to bounce back as quick as we can against Accrington on Saturday."

The defeat means Oxford are now 12 points behind league leaders Northampton with 16 games left to play.

Sitting just six points behind them are a resurgent Accrington Stanley side who also have two games in hand on the U's meaning Saturday's game at the Kassam has taken on greater significance.

The U's were undone in the top-of-the-table clash via a Marc Richards penalty after Mr Hill pointed to the spot for an alleged Johnny Mullins handball.

The Oxford boss added: "It wasn't a penalty. I can safely say I was not impressed. I think it wasn't a good night for the official and I'm not going to try and hide from that."

United left back Joe Skarz didn't wish to comment on the penalty decision but expressed his dismay with the final score.

He said: "I'm disappointed with the result but they're a top team and you can see why they are top of the league.

"I don't think we played badly, we've played worse than that and won games but we knew it was going to be difficult tonight."

The result on Tuesday meant that United hasn't won at the Kassam in the league since their 3-0 won over Exeter City back on Boxing Day.

Greens blast three within eight minutes

KIDLINGTON kept their title charge going on Tuesday night with a 4-1 win at basement boys Wokingham and Emmbrook.

The Greens' task at the Sumas' ground was made easier early on after they scored three times within the first eight minutes.

A pass from Kristian Thomas set up Anaclet Odhiambo to side home the opener at the far post before Lewis Gabbidon found space to guide home a second of the day on seven minutes.

Just a minute later Tommy Castle fired in the third as Kidlington took a commanding lead in the game.

However, the Sumas soon struck back five minutes later after Jake Butler got on the edge of a long ball to tap the ball home to cut the deficit to two goals.

The Greens responded by continuing to attack the nervous Sumas defence and were rewarded when Lewis Coyle found the space to powerfully fire home a fourth for Kidlington.

Wokingham kept everyone back in the second half as they sought to keep the scoring low, frustrating the Greens.

They held on to keep thes core 4-1 as the Greens struggled to add to their tally.

Whichelow snatches late goal for City in draw at Wealdstone

MATT Whichelow grabbed a late, late equaliser for Oxford City in the dying minutes to secure a 2-2 draw with Wealdstone on Monday night.

City had gone in front early on in the encounter through a Bradley Bubb penalty, which was his second in two matches before the home side hit back.

Wealdstone's Bradley Hudson-Odi wriggled through to level the scores and then broke through the defence once more early on in the second half to fire his side into the lead.

The Stones looked set to hold onto the lead until the 90th minute when Whichelow curled in an effort into the top corner to life City to sixth in the National Conference South.

It was City's second draw in three days after they held league leaders Ebbsfleet United to a 1-1 draw at Marsh Lane.

United's Aaron McClean had headed the away side into the lead on 16 minutes before Bubb missed a penalty after Kynan Isaac was brought down in the box.

Reece Fleet was then sent off for Oxford with just ten minutes after a challenge on Danny Kedwell.

However, City were given a lifeline after Kedwell, who had been cautioned before, was giving his marching orders for an altercation in the Ebbsfleet box and Bubb fired home to secure the draw.

United foiled by spotkick in Cobblers loss

By Loughlan Campbell

CHRIS Wilder got one over on his old club as the former's U's boss' Northampton Town side snatched a 1-0 win thanks to a controversial penalty at the Kassam Stadium on Tuesday night.

The game was played at boiling point and United were undone in the end by a Marc Richards penalty after referee Keith Hill alleged Johnny Mullins had handled in the box in what was deemed as a lucky break for the Cobblers.

United had their chances and Chris Maguire nearly equalised with a stunning curler that clipped the post but in the end it was Northampton's win on a bitterly cold night in Oxford.

The U's spurned a handful of chances in the opening 20 minutes with Danny Hylton and Kemar Roofe both firing wide after finding space in the box and Jordan Bowery should have put the home side in front, shooting over from close range.

James Collins was a threat for Northampton and struck a low effort that was shut out by U's keeper Benji Buchel before Roofe performed some neat footwork in the area to work a blocked shot from inside the box.

On the stroke of half-time came the half's best chance with Richards sending in a flicked-on header from a Cobbler's corner goalwards, only for the effort to be blocked away by Buchel with a diving save.

Tensions then sparked between the two sides following the restart after ex-United midfielder Danny Rose went in late with a tackle on Liam Sercombe and was booked. Then came the controversial decision as a cross into the U's box knocked Mullins' hand and Keith Hill pointed to the spot, claiming a hand ball.

Richards stepped up and fired past Buchel to give the hard-working Cobblers the lead.

Try as they might, United couldn't recapture their flow with Sercombe spurning Oxford's best chance when put through into the Cobbler's box.

Chinnor hold on to big win despite strong fightback

CHINNOR scored five tries to pick up a valuable bonus point in their 39-26 win over Canterbury on Saturday in the National League 2 South.

It was a dominant first half for Chinnor, playing at home, as they scored a huge 27 unanswered points.

Henry Lamont got Chinnor up and running after 10 minutes, bursting through a midfield hole that was created by Junior Fatialofa and a Sam Angell conversion.

Angell then added a penalty goal straight afterwards before Oscar Heath galloped 80 minutes down the line to slide over for Chinnor's second try of the day following an interception.

Angell added the conversion before scoring another penalty goal as the home side raced into a 20-0 lead.

Fatialofa then worked his magic through his movement to cut through the Canterbury defence from 35 metres out to score a solo try with Angell providing the extras.

Canterbury came out furious in the second half and quickly grabbed an interception try through Courtney Horey after two minutes before Ollie Best crossed.

Chinnor restored the original flow straight away with Angell crossing before Jack Adams found a way to the line and the conversion was true for a 39-14 lead.

The away side still managed to up their score, scoring two late tries through Tom Best and Harry Sayers with one of the tries converted for a final score of 39-26.

Chinnor travel to face the Taunton Titans on Saturday in a big clash that could see them make it three wins in a row.

Witney beaten blue by Newbury

• Witney and Newbury Blues players contest the ball (picture by Ian Jack)

WITNEY fell to a 25-17 defeat at Newbury Blues in a drizzly encounter on Saturday afternoon.

The game was a bristly, hot-tempered affair and the first try came through Witney's Jake Thomas who touched down after Newbury's Dan Thorne kicked an early penalty for the Blues.

The Blues continues to disrupt Witney's possession and snatched a try on 35 minutes when flanked Josh Winfield crashed over the line and the conversion followed.

The referee called for half time, and straight after the restart the Blues then extended their lead through another penalty after Witney collapsed a lineout maul.

Newbury then extended their lead after a run down the left led to Blues' captain Thorne being played in to score down by the corner for an unconverted try to take the score to 18-5.

Witney then grabbed a penalty try on 55 minutes after Witney were awarded a 5m scrum and the Blues collapsed across the line for an 18-12 score.

It was then 25-12 for Newbury after Matt Horne managed to drive his side over the line with a driving ruck.

Witney got the last score of the game with a late try though Arrun Lambourne who managed to pounce on a loose ball from a touch down for a final score of 25-17 to the home side with Witney staying fourth.

Freds destroyed by rampant U's

WANTAGE TOWN were thrashed 5-0 in a bruising defeat to Evesham United in the rain at Alfredian Park on Saturday.

United, who outmuscled the Freds earlier in the season with a 2-1 win, started fast, attacking the Wantage goal.

The Freds were kept on the back foot by Evesham's pressing game though the home side's defence was on point for the first 45 minutes.

The defence worked well but Evesham still managed to grab themselves a goal after Matt Sysum found a gap before firing past Ed Cavanagh to take the lead.

The Freds trundled in at half time feeling positive but were then shell-shocked as the game restarted after Evesham grabbed two in two minutes through Adam Mann and Nathan Modest as United ransacked the Wantage defence.

Wantage pressed up the field when they could but were mostly on the back foot and Mann then executed an effort superbly to take the lead to four with just over twenty minutes to play.

Sysum then added another to complete his brace for the game shortly afterwards as the Freds fell to their 20th defeat of the season, leaving them still hanging ominously one place over the relegation spots above Burnham and Bashley. Stuart Cattell's men faced themselves in a similar predicament last year as they avoided the drop by six points.

Following the departure of Benjamin Whitehead, the club have experienced a period of uncertainty but despite the defeats, the game, especially in the first half, showed that the Freds are holding strong at the back, with their mental fragility arguably the biggest cause of their slumps in games once they concede.

U's duo get prestigious award nomination

TWO Oxford United Women footballers are in the running for a prestigious Woman of Achievement award.

U's goalkeeper Demi Lambourne and defender Riva Casley have been shortlisted for the 2016 Southern Women of Achievement awards taking place next month in Reading.

The awards, which are in their 10th year celebrate 'incredible women' and feature categories across business, sports, the arts and the community as well as a 'Young Achiever of the Year' with both Lambourne and Casley nominated in the sports category.

Demi has been with the club over the last few years and was recently called into the England U-20 squad having won the Oxfordshire Sportswoman of the Year Award.

Riva has been called up to the England U-17 squad, winning a place for this summer's side in games against the likes of France and Sweden.

The duo's manager Les Taylor said: "This is further recognition for two very talented young women who had very bright futures in football."

The awards are aiming to raise money for the Sue Ryder charity, which is a social care charity that provides hospice and neurological care across the country.

The pair will learn who's grabbed the award at the ceremony on March 11 at Trunkwell Mansion House, Beech Hill Road in Reading, lasting from 11.45am to 4.30pm.

Season tickets are now available for Oxford United Women's WSL2 season.

The squad are kicking off their run of fixtures in a home game against the Millwall Lionesses at the Northcourt on March 24. The U's placed sixth last year.

Late equaliser

HOCKEY: Kim Haynes bagged herself a brace as Oxford Hockey Club's ladies' firsts secured a 3-3 draw against fourth-placed Banbury in the South League Division 2.

Banbury had led the game 3-2 before Catherine Reaney's deflected finish sealed the draw.

In the men's firsts, Nick Mayne and Tim Burns scored as they beat Eastcote's seconds 2-1 in the MBBO Regional 1.

Thame's three games in six days

FOOTBALL: Thame United were beaten 2-0 in the Perpetua Press Floodlit Cup quarter-final by Thatcham Town at Waterside Park on Tuesday night.

The match completed a trio of fixtures over six days with United beating Lydney Town 3-1 in the Hellenic Premier League and their 1-1 draw with Oxford City Nomads at Court Place Farm last Wednesday.

United play Ascot United in the Bluefin Sports Challenge Cup third round this Saturday at the Racecourse Ground.

Double Hornets

ICE HOCKEY: Oxford City Stars face a double header against lowly Bracknell Hornets this weekend.

The two teams will face off on both days, with the Saturday clash taking place in Bracknell and the Sunday game will take place at Oxpens Road.

The Stars currently lie fifth whilst the Hornets play towards the bottom of the NIHLS1 table in ninth.

In the last encounter between the two back in October, the Stars ran out 5-2 winners.

Millers defeated in Banbury clash

By Loughlan Campbell

NORTH LEIGH suffered their fourth loss of the year in an enthralling 3-1 defeat at Banbury United on Saturday.

An excellent contest saw Sam Elkins net for the Millers whilst Banbury's Ricky Johnson, Zac McEachran and Mark Bell scored for the home side as 272 fans watched on at the Spencer Stadium.

The derby started brightly with Johnson heading wide of Millers' 'keeper James Foster's post from six yards out.

Leigh then came close to an opener through Elkins at the far post before Johnson fired over for United from 12 yards.

United grabbed their opener out of nothing when Bell collected the ball on 32 minutes down the left and fired in a speculative effort from 20 yards that spun in under the bar to Foster's bewilderment.

Steve Davies then blasted over for North Leigh shortly afterwards before United grabbed their second through McEachran who darted his way through the defence before clipping a shot into the bottom corner of the net.

Leigh came out fighting in the second half and on 51 minutes were back in the game after Elkins climb highest to loop a header into the far corner from an in-swinging cross.

Elliot Osborne-Ricketts then had an effort blocked by Banbury 'keeper Jack Harding shortly after the goal.

Leigh were then handed an opportunity on 71 minutes when Bell was sent off for a rash tackle on Stuart Hole but Leigh's Zak Westlake then shot his team in the foot after he received a red for a late challenge to make it ten on ten.

The game was heading for a jaw-dropping finale as both sides went close to finding the net.

In the 88th minute, it was United who had the final say when Johnson crucially headed the ball past Foster to send the home fans into raptures.

The result saw Leigh fall further short in the play-off race whilst Banbury consolidated their spot as they remain in fourth whilst the Millers are six points off the spots.

Leigh played Bishops Cleeve last night as the Oxfordshire Guardian went to print.
